EXCISE AND RED LIGHT CASES BEFORE COURT

Important Appeals to Be Considered by Judicial Body Convening Tomorrow.

Several important cases on appeal will be before the District Court of Appeals when it convenes at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, with Chief Justice Seth Shepard and Associate Justices Robb and Van Orsdel presiding.

An appeal from the verdict in the Police Court favorable to the defendant, in the case charging Nathaniel Wilson as president of the Metropolitan Club, with a violation of the excise law, will be one of the important cases brought up. The contention of the Corporation Counsel in the case, brought at the instance of the Anti-Saloon League, was that the license granted the club was illegal in that the club was located in a block less than 50 per cent of the frontage of which was occupied for business purposes.

In the case on appeal of Margaret Stout, the constitutionality of the Kenyon "red light" law is attacked. The Stout woman was sentenced by Chief Justice Covington to imprisonment for one year under the Kenyon statute. She is at liberty under $3,000 bond.

PRESIDENT IN PRAYER AT CABINET SESSION

Methodist Bishop Tells How Chief Executive Sought Heavenly Aid in National Problem.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 2.—President Wilson opened a recent meeting of his Cabinet by getting down on his knees and praying, according to a statement by Bishop William P. Anderson, of Cincinnati, at the session of the Indiana Methodist conference. Bishop Anderson said the incident was related to him by a United States Senator and that the Senator had it direct from a member of the Cabinet.

"The President said to the members of the Cabinet," stated Bishop Anderson, "I don't know whether you men believe in prayer or not. I do. Let us pray and ask the help of God."

"And then he got down upon his knees and the rest of the Cabinet did the same, and the President offered a prayer to God."

Bishop Anderson eulogized the President for his act.

Alice Eversman, Local Prima Donna, to Sing Here Saturday

Former Pupil of Late Dr. Bischoff, Noted Organist, Will Play Role of Aida with San Carlo Opera Company at Belasco Theater.

Musical Washington is to be given another opportunity Saturday night to welcome back the National Capital's foremost prima donna—Miss Alice Eversman, the ecumenical of whose vocal and historic ability Washington first voiced and then heartily echoed when taken up by discriminating critics in Berlin, Leipzig, Montreal, Chicago, Philadelphia, and New York. Miss Eversman will be heard again in the prima donna role of Aida with the San Carlo Opera Company at the Belasco Theater.

Miss Eversman is a Washington product and a Washington discovery. While a student at Fairmont Seminary she was discovered by the late Dr. Bischoff, the beloved blind organist of the First Congregational Church. Through his efforts she studied later at the Peabody Musical Conservatory, Baltimore, and afterwards in Berlin, Paris, and Milan, under the most operative teachers of her generation. And as a tribute to her affection for her first maestro, she has made it an

Message of Peace Flung to Rulers of All the Nations

Farewell Sentiments Bring G. A. R. Encampment to Impressive Close—War Veteran's Daughter Has New National Anthem.

Sending on the four winds the rulers of the universe a farewell wireless message of peace and good will, the veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic yesterday afternoon brought to an impressive close the forty-ninth annual encampment of the organization.

On the dome of the Capitol stood four young women, each holding in her hand a snow-white dove—for the North and one for the South, one for the East and one for the West. Attached to each of the symbolic birds was a little envelope containing a prayer for speedy and everlasting peace.

As the doves were released, Capt. James Whittlesby, a veteran member of the Signal Corps, who was with the Union fleet on the Mississippi during the civil war, viewed to the wireless station at Arlington the following message, which was flashed to the four points of the compass, addressed to the rulers of the nations of the world:

"Greetings from the G. A. R., Washington, D. C., 1915, to the rulers of the nations of the earth, with a hope that peace will come soon and reign forever."

New National Anthem.
Portions from "The United States Song," a new national anthem composed by Mrs. Jessie Beattie Thomas, who was present, were also sung. Mrs. Thomas is a writer of note and daughter of Dr. A. B. Beattie, who was a surgeon in the civil war, and the widow of Judge John R. Thomas, for ten years a member of Congress and known because of his attraction for steel battleships. The song follows:

Hail Nation of United States,
George Washington, and battles won!
Our seal from Independence dates,
Blood consecrate United States.

O land of happy homes and health,
O land of beauty and of wealth!
All honor thee from sea to sea,
And wide thy gates, United States!

Our motto now, "In God we trust,"
Commendation United States.
That all her own be true and just,
Thus invocate United States.

Cleanse the Blood Banish Rheumatism

Rheumatism Due to Bad Blood. S. S. S. Your Remedy

Thousands have been made well. People in the poorest health, suffering from Rheumatism, with whom pain was constant. Who believed that their vitality was sapped beyond repair. It was proven to them that the cause of their trouble was the blood; that Uric Acid, the most faithful ally of Rheumatism, had gripped them. The poison in the blood had sapped its strength. The weakened blood had allowed poison and impurities to accumulate, and all energy was gone. They felt "poorly," were listless, pain was ever present, with poor digestion and dyspepsia. They tried S. S. S.—nature's blood tonic. They gave up drugs. This compound of nature's remedies of roots and herbs did what drugs failed to do. It literally washed the blood free from poison, and with the flow of pure blood came back health, strength, vigor and happiness. Get S. S. S. from your druggist. Insist upon S. S. S. If yours is a long standing case, write for special advice to S. S. S. Co., Atlanta, Ga., but begin taking S. S. S. at once.

HESPERIAN EVIDENCE IS IN NAVY'S HANDS

Comprises Metal Which British Say Was Part of Torpedo or Mine. To Be Examined.

Additional evidence in the case of the Alien liner Hesperian, destroyed off the Irish coast, was received at the State Department yesterday from Ambassador Page at London.

Interest in this evidence centers chiefly in a fragment of metal, said by the British authorities to have been picked up on the deck of the Hesperian following the explosion which caused the liner's destruction. The British assert that this piece of metal is unquestionably a fragment of a torpedo, and that thus it is conclusive proof that the Hesperian was the victim of an attack by a German submarine. The fragment was given Ambassador Page by the British admiralty.

Acting Secretary of State Polk has transmitted the piece of metal and documents referring to it to the Navy Department for examination and determination, if possible, whether it was part of a mine or torpedo. The piece of metal is described as being about twelve inches long, of steel, and apparently part of inside mechanism of either a mine or torpedo. Reports from London recently stated that attaches of the American Embassy who had opportunity to examine the fragment agreed with the British conclusion that it is part of a torpedo.

Determination of this question is of particular interest, in view of the fact that if the Hesperian was attacked by a submarine, it was in violation of Germany's pledge not to attack liners without warning and without regard for the safety of passengers and crew. The Berlin government has formally and officially disclaimed responsibility for the sinking of the Hesperian, asserting that no German submarines were in her vicinity at the time she was destroyed. Heretofore the United States government has not had sufficiently conclusive evidence supporting the submarine theory to warrant its making any further representations to the German government.

Accompanying the fragment of metal were a number of affidavits made by officers and passengers of the Hesperian. It is understood that all agree that no submarine was seen before or after the explosion in the Hesperian, and that no torpedo or torpedo wake was observed. Reports from London recently stated that the piece of metal in question was picked up on the deck just after the explosion occurred.

DANIELS WANTS 1,200 ANNAPOLIS STUDENTS

More Officers for Navy and Marine Corps Urged by Secretary of Navy.

Secretary Daniels announced yesterday that he would recommend to Congress legislation for increasing the number of midshipmen at the Naval Academy at Annapolis to 1,200. The present number authorized by law is about 900, but, owing to constantly recurring vacancies, there are usually not more than 800 midshipmen in the institution at any one time.

Mr. Daniels has discussed his plan with regard to Annapolis with Representative Padgett, chairman of the House Naval Committee. Mr. Padgett is understood to be ready to support the Secretary's recommendations when submitted to Congress.

It is Mr. Daniels' purpose not only to obtain more officers for the navy, but also to get more officers for the Marine Corps by increasing the enrollment of the Naval Academy.

The Marine Corps officers from civil life without thorough training as is given by the courses at Annapolis.

It is estimated that, including all overhead charges, it costs about $22,000 to give a midshipman four years of instruction at Annapolis. Increase of the cadet corps by 300 or 400 would cost, it is estimated, nearly $1,000,000 a year.
